Weather

The program will only be cancelled if weather conditions are dangerous. Unless you receive a phone call cancelling the program, assume the course will run rain or shine.

Clothing, Equipment and Meals

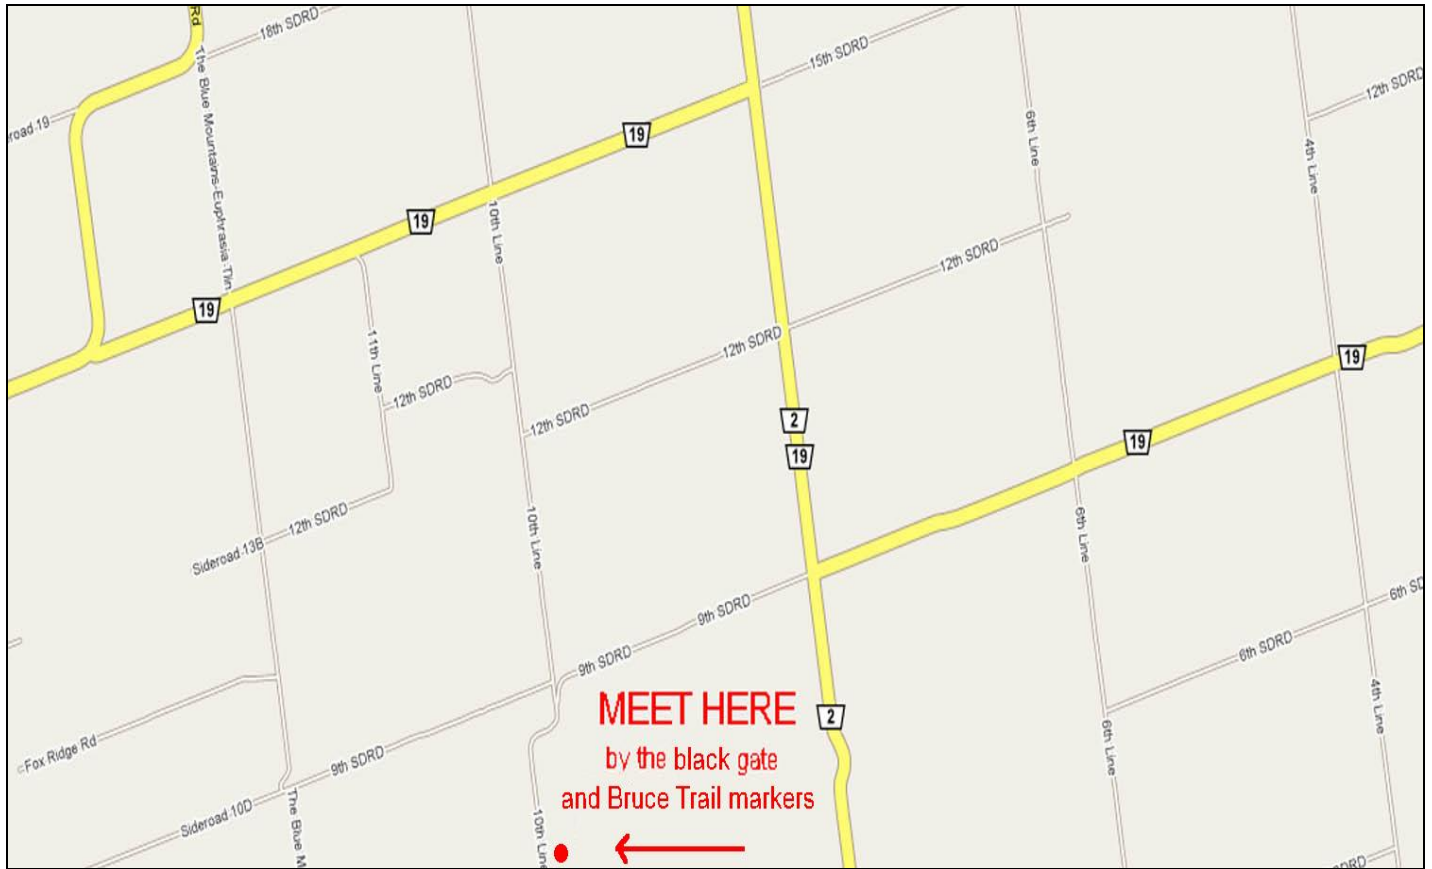

We provide all the technical equipment such as helmets, harnesses and other required gear. Wear weather-appropriate clothing. Quick dry clothing (polyester or nylon) is recommended. Make sure to wear clothing you are not worried about getting dirty or ripped. Bring a rain jacket, as the program will run regardless of weather conditions. Hiking shoes or running shoes are appropriate for the day. Pack water, insect repellent, and extra sweater as well as your lunch in a small backpack. Your lunch will be travelling with you through the caves.

Waiver

The guides in charge of this program operate with your safety in mind. However, ice climbing entails a certain degree of danger. Before signing up for the program, you must understand that you assume all responsibility. You will be required to sign a liability waiver before starting the program. If you don't comply with safety guidelines, the guides will have the right to suspend your participation in the program without compensation. Please see your physician if you have any medical problems.

Payment and Cancellation

Payment is due in full at the time of reservation. If you cancel your reservation after you have paid, no refund will be issued. However, you can transfer your reservation to another person within one week of the trip departure date. The administrative cost for this is $25 per person.
